PROJECTS

My Portfolio Website

- "Welcome to my portfolio!" This website showcases my passion for web development.
- I have used HTML, CSS, JavaScript and UI/UX concepts to build this website.
- I tried to create a captivating website by blending simplicity with visual charm, carefully selecting an aesthetic color palette to enhance the overall user experience."

Gym Management System

- Contributing to an Efficient Gym Management System, our collaborative team of 4 worked cohesively.
- My focus encompassed creating streamlined login, logout, and registration processes, alongside crafting a dynamic home page as I was a beginner in web development.
- The end result is a simplified gym operation for users, highlighted by a user-friendly UI and enhanced UX."

SerpentNostalgia

- "SerpentNostalgia: is a web-based project where I've recreated the beloved Snake Game that many of us cherished on old Nokia phones.
- I tried to bring back the simple joy of this classic game, which held a special place in our hearts during the good old days."
- I aimed to capture the simplicity and fun of the original game while honing our web development skills.

Dove UI/UX Research Project

- This is a UI/UX-based project where I tried to analyze and explore how the famous brand Dove uses UI/UX to impress customers with their products, attraction strategies, marketing impact, and user-centered design
- An incredible learning experience, understanding how UI/UX plays a pivotal role in the success of a project, brand and app.
